

Angry Swedes Call Soviets Liars, Danes Tell Pilots to Shoot

Swedish Cabinet Meets In Special Session to Discuss Shooting Down Of Unarmed Plane by Russians Monday

BULLETIN

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Sweden tonight formally rejected a Russian charge that a Swedish plane shot down by Soviet fighters had violated Russian territory.

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Angry Swedes called the Russians liars today and the Danes alerted their airmen to shoot back if attacked by Soviets.

The Swedish cabinet met in an urgent special session to discuss the shooting down Monday by Soviet jets of an unarmed Swedish Catalina rescue plane which was searching for another lost plane.

The cabinet had before it the translation of a Russian note stating that the Swedish plane was over Soviet territory and had opened fire first. The Russians claim their territorial waters extend 12 miles into the Baltic. The recognized limit is three miles.

Tomorrow the government's foreign policy council — the premier, foreign minister and representatives of both houses of parliament — meets to discuss the incident.

In Copenhagen, Adm. E. J. C. Quistgaard, chairman of Denmark's joint chief of staff, alerted Danish airmen to shoot back without hesitating if fired on by Soviet planes either inside or outside Danish territory. He revealed that Danish military units have had standing orders since March to shoot back to kill, without awaiting further orders, if Soviet ships or planes fire on any Danish unit.

Both Danes and Swedes were outraged by the Soviet contention that the Swedes were at fault in the Baltic incident of last Monday.

The Soviet claims were contained in a note handed to the Swedish ambassador in Moscow by Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky. The note, as broadcast by Radio Moscow, said that the Swedish plane flew over the Russian-held island of Dagoe near the Estonian coast, opened fire on Soviet fighters when they ordered it to land, and flew out over the Baltic Sea after the Russian planes returned the fire.

The Swedish Air Force had told a vastly different story—that the plane, a Catalina flying boat searching for a Swedish transport plane missing over the Baltic since last Friday and also feared a victim of Soviet jets, was unarmed and was shot down 18 miles outside Russian territorial waters.

Two of the downed plane's seven crewmen were wounded in the attack but all were rescued by a German freighter.

Though official comment was not forthcoming until the text of Moscow, one government authority denied every major point of the Russian contention.

The plane, he said, "was a Catalina flying boat and absolutely unarmed. Thus, it could not have opened fire against anybody. There was not the slightest shade of doubt that the Catalina was shot down over international waters. The position has been definitely established by thorough investigation."

Stockholm's morning newspapers were unanimous in their denunciation of the Soviet note. "Russia's government is lying," the liberal Dagens Nyheter declared.

The conservative Svenska Dagbladet said the Russian charges "will not convince any Swedes. The lies are too obvious, the false accusations too flagrant."

The Socialist Morgon Tidningen, mouthpiece of the government, said the Russian note would be rejected at once.

"We have the right and duty to reject every attempt to deprive the country of an apology owed it for a brutal assault on a harmless rescue party which has not violated anybody's border but kept the international airspace," Morgon Tidningen declared.

The incident infuriated the neutrality-loving Swedes. Thousands of jeering demonstrators, some throwing stones and firecrackers, massed in front of the Russian Embassy here the last two nights.

Prime Minister Tage Erlander protested the shooting to the Russian ambassador in strong language Monday. The government ordered its naval and air force units to keep up the search for the plane missing since Friday and to shoot back at any further Soviet attacks.

A special session of the government also decided to tighten the nation's defense against air attacks but no details were disclosed.

The Swedish Foreign Office said the plane had flown over Dagoe Island last Friday, the day the transport disappeared with eight men aboard.

Acheson 'Shocked' By Plane Incident

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said today he was deeply shocked by what he called the indefensible action of Soviet fighter planes in shooting down a Swedish aircraft.

Acheson also told a news conference that Red aggression has been checked in Indo China "and recent indications warrant the view that the tide is now moving in our favor."

Answering questions before he leaves next week end on a European tour and visit to South America, Acheson said the United States is and always has been willing to have a Big Four meeting — whenever discussions between the Western powers and Russia seem likely to help settle international problems instead of impeding a settlement.

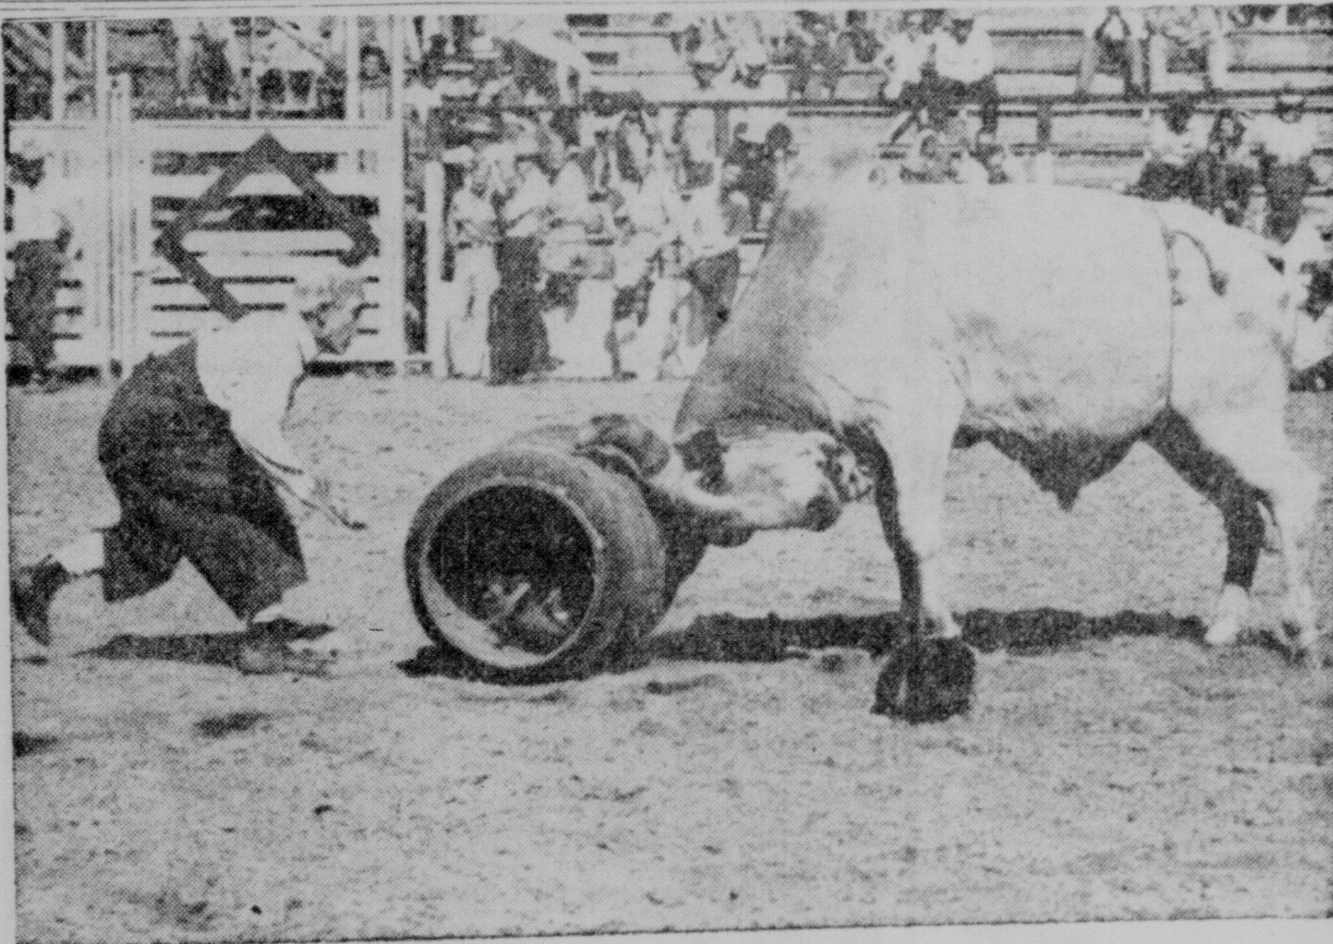

Foreign Agricultural Men Visit Plants Here Wednesday

Fifteen foreign agricultural specialists, representing eight European countries, were in Sedalia Wednesday to visit at the Bagby Poultry Farm Hatchery, 318 West Second, and Swift and Company plant, 724 West Main.

The group was from Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., where the students have just completed a five week course on Special Poultry Management, which is under the Mutual Security Agency. The course was a technical assistance program aimed at instructing the men in special American methods.

Monday of this week the group visited at the Ralston-Purina Producers farm in Gray Summit, Mo., and Tuesday they visited at the University of Missouri. From Sedalia the group is leaving for Fayetteville, Ark., where they will stay eight days and then they will visit in Kentucky and Tennessee for two days. After leaving the mid-west, the group will go to Washington, D. C., for several days before leaving for Europe on July 10.

Those who were in the group which toured the local business establishments were: Josef Tauschitz and Otto Rohrl, both of Austria; Raffaello Quilici and Federico Clementi, both of Italy; Tor And IKE TACKER—Death defying comedy at its best will be witnessed at the State Fair Rodeo here in Sedalia when Ike Tacker, Waco, Tex., fights mean, vicious, wild Brahma bulls. Ike, a cowboy 30 years of age, has spent most of his life in the rodeo arena. He started out as a bronco rider and Brahma bull rider. For the past ten years he has proven to be one of the greatest rodeo clowns in the business. This year will be the first time Ike has ever appeared in this part of the country, having previously worked shows in the South and the far Northwest. Ike has worked such famous shows as Memphis, Tenn., Fort Smith, Ark., Caldwell, Ida., Salt Lake City, and Baton Rouge, La.

Parade Thursday at 2, Rodeo Starts With Night Performance

Many Specialties With Top Cowboys In Real Action

There won't be a band in the State Fair Rodeo parade Thursday at 2 p. m., but there will be plenty of horses, for entries are still coming in and in the past two days there have been more than 400 listed. Somehow, it seems to be the wrong time of year for bands, Guy Peabody, parade marshal, can't seem to get any lined up, but there will be a music box that will blast forth rodeo music in the lead car.

The parade this year will have a new starting point because of the easier loading facilities. It will assemble at Main and Washington and go west on Main to Kentucky, south to Second, east to Ohio, south to Seventh, east to Lamine, north on Lamine to Fifth, west to Ohio, back north to Third, east to Washington, north back to the starting point.

Ohio will be cleared of all automobiles from Broadway to Main, according to Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors, and any car double parked on the parade route other than Ohio will receive a parking ticket or will be towed to the police station.

The parade will have real cowboys and cowgirls and many men, women and children from Sedalia and vicinity. All will be in modern version costumes of the old west, and will range in age from a five-year-old riding a pony to some up in years riding fine horses.

The parade is the beginning of the big show which will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights and Sunday afternoon at the fair grounds. Tickets are available at the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce office.

The rodeo, which will be staged in front of the grandstand will have a number of special acts in addition to the bucking horses, Brahma bulls, calf roping and other rodeo events.

There will also be an act of bull fighting for those who have never seen one and many Central Missourians have not, and all the funny antics of the clown, Ike Tacker, one of America's best.

Thrown Under Train

TOKYO (AP)—Six persons were killed and seven injured today when a guard rail collapsed and threw them under a train at a Tokyo railway station.

Highway Improvements May Be Delayed Thru Mo. by Steel Strike

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The continuing steel strike may put Missouri's big highway improvement program a half a year or more behind schedule, highway department officials said last night.

Even should the strike end quickly, it would take several weeks for the mills to get back to full production. Then defense demands would further postpone the time steel could become available for road and bridge construction, officials said gloomily.

Highway projects that had been scheduled for completion this year probably will have to be shut down during the coming winter and finished next spring, they said.

Huk American Gets Sentence For Rebellion

MANILA (AP)—William J. Pomeroy, American propaganda chief for the Communist Huks, and his Filipino wife Celia today were sentenced to life imprisonment for armed rebellion in the Philippines.

Each pleaded guilty to the indictment, which also charged them with murder, kidnaping, arson and robbery as members of the Huk organization.

Judge Felicissimo Ocampo said he refrained from imposing the death sentence because the pair showed "indications of repentance."

Pomeroy, 36, Rochester, N.Y., a U.S. airman in World War II, made no comment. But his wife told newsmen:

"Bill and I are prepared to meet whatever the future has in store for us.

"We knew it was coming and we were prepared for it. You can justify, you can condemn but we have finally found our way."

Court attendants whisked the couple away shortly after the sentencing. The courtroom was crowded with armed guards and military agents to prevent any Huk rescue attempt.

Pomeroy had been in the hills with the Huks more than two years. Philippine troops captured him March 11, 40 miles northeast of Manila. His wife was captured a few days later.

There was a $15,000 price on his head. He was described by intelligence officers as a leading Huk brain trust and director of propaganda.

Ingrid Bergman Has Twin Girls Today

ROME (AP)—Ingrid Bergman gave delayed birth tonight to twin girls. Her husband, Robert Rossellini, was beside the blonde film star, his face creased with anxiety because the births were more than two weeks overdue.

The girls were born about a half hour apart. The condition of the mother and daughters was described as "fine."

They weighed approximately seven pounds each.

Earlier today, Rossellini pleaded for extra time to reply in the United States to charges against his character.

Rossellini had, etc. 2nd graf 42.

Malik Readies Attack Over Germ Warfare

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Russia's Jacob A. Malik readied a double-barreled propaganda attack in which he was expected today to accuse the United States of using germ warfare in Korea and keeping 14 nations out of the United Nations.

Western delegates agreed these were the main points Malik would try to put across in discussing the two items he has set for Security Council consideration this afternoon.

Auditor Takes Crack at State Vehicle Dept.

'Sloppy' Accounting Methods, He Says, Causing Trouble

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—State auditor William H. Holmes said a crack today at sloppy accounting methods in the state Motor vehicle division of the revenue department.

At the same time he recommended a thorough study with a view to simplifying the whole procedure under Missouri's permanent vehicle registration law. Until that is done, he said, more trouble can be expected.

Holmes' comments were made as part of an audit of the motor vehicle unit which tracked down sales tax shortages totaling $7,633 during 1950. They were part of previously disclosed thefts for which a bonding company has reimbursed the state a total of $10,238.

An audit of the unit's 1951 operations, when the rest of the shortage apparently occurred, is not yet complete. No one has been prosecuted for the shortages.

Joseph J. Jannuzzo, who made the audit for Holmes, said "any prosecution is up to the enforcement authorities."

All of the $7,633 shortage in 1950 occurred on 188 transactions in the Jefferson City office. Records were manipulated and sales tax forms on motor vehicles were destroyed so that the thefts were concealed for months.

Jannuzzo suggested in his report that if the Jefferson City office had checked automobile titles against sales tax information—as the outside offices did—the manipulation could have been detected.

Machine accounting alone is not enough, he said. Other checks also must be made.

"A cash register, of course, cannot account for transactions or monies not recorded or placed in it," he explained, "and this was the situation evidently involved in this instance."

Since the shortages were discovered, he said accounting controls have been tightened to make a recurrence more difficult.

Jannuzzo said the trouble stemmed in part from the fact the motor vehicle unit has not been able to keep pace with its added duties under the permanent registration law. He recommended a restudy of the whole law and said "there is a vast opportunity for improvement."

"We believe," he concluded, "that until changes and simplification of the permanent registration law and its related legislation are formulated and achieved, and until there is a workable solution of the difficulties for adequate law enforcement in connection with this act, we hold scant hope that the motor vehicle division of the department of revenue, as presently constituted, will ever be without its troubles, difficulties and criticisms."

Senate Kills Truman Move on Postmasters

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today killed a reorganization plan submitted by President Truman designed to wipe out the requirement of Senate approval in the selection of 21,438 postmasters.

The vote to disapprove the plan was 56 to 29.

That was seven more than the 49 votes necessary for rejection. The plan had been defended in debate as a great forward step in the merit system and attacked as a move to make the postmaster general an immensely powerful political figure.

Sen. Taft Will Ask Ike's Help

If Elected, He Will Use General As Advisor; Says He'll Cut Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Taft said today that as president he would be anxious to seek the advice of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on military matters.

Speaking at a National Press Club luncheon, Taft declined, however, to comment on whether a professional soldier is qualified for the presidency. He said he thought that was a question he should not answer.

Eisenhower and Taft are the top contenders for the Republican presidential nomination.

It was Taft's second speech of the day here. Earlier, the Ohio Senator told a meeting of business to pledge a straight 15 per cent cut in taxes "if he becomes president."

He said he considers present tax levels to be inflationary.

At the Press Club luncheon, Taft said the charge that he is steam-rolling the Republican national convention is "a fake issue."

Taft was told Eisenhower had been quoted as saying Taft's election would be an "international catastrophe."

"That's news to me," Taft replied. "I doubt very much the general thinks that."

Taft told a breakfast conference of business paper editors that he believes he could bring government spending down to around 70 billion dollars in the first year. It is now running about 85 billion.

In the second year, he said, the budget "ought to be cut to 60 billion" — 40 billion for the armed forces and aid to Europe and 20 billion for domestic purposes.

"I think that can be done," Taft said. "If so, we can have a 15 per cent cut in taxes."

In his speech, Taft hit again at "land generals" he said are dominating Pentagon thinking, and repeated his demand for a supreme air power to stop Russian aggression.

As for keeping American troops on the continents of Europe and Asia, the senator told the editors: "I don't think we should do it as any permanent policy."

Taft also said he doubted the advisability of any permanent law designed to meet such things as the present steel strike.

"I don't like a permanent law that gives the government the power to fix wages, or order compulsory arbitration of seizure," he said.

"If you set up a permanent law based on compulsory arbitration, you invade a large field of economic freedom and bring an end to collective bargaining. x x x I think there are worse things than strikes, and one of them is the destruction of freedom."

If Congress does decide to legislate in this field, Taft said, it might have to consider a ban or limitation on nation-wide bargaining. He said it's difficult to draw up a law dealing with that.

And he said, he is not himself suggesting any such law.

At the moment, the senator said, he believes President Truman should invoke the Taft-Hartley law in the steel strike.

The basic question the country and Congress have to face today, Taft told the business editors, is the fiscal situation.

"We have a tremendous budget that imposes tremendous burdens," he said. "I think it is inconsistent with the continued existence of a free economy if it goes on."

Late News

Testifies Government Defrauded Over Flaxseed

WASHINGTON (AP)—An investigator testified today the government was defrauded of at least three million dollars by inclusion of sand and waste materials in flaxseed bought under price support programs. And he declared an Agriculture Department official squelched an order designed to halt the frauds.

The testimony came from Kirk Johnson, chief of the St. Paul Office of Investigation for the General Accounting Office (GAO), at hearing before the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Drew Pearson Punched In Face by Attorney

WASHINGTON (AP)—Columnist Drew Pearson was punched in the face today by Charles Patrick Clark, Washington lawyer, in an encounter in the lobby of the Mayflower Hotel.

Witnesses said only the one punch was thrown and that it appeared to land on Pearson's right eye.

Others separated the two men and they left the hotel.

Clark told reporters he was incensed by columns Pearson has written about him and his friends and, on encountering Pearson in the Hotel lobby asked him to step outside. He said Pearson refused, so he popped him one anyway.

Seivers Apparent Low Bidder Today For Work at SABB

KANSAS CITY, (AP)—The Seivers Construction Co. of Sedalia was the apparent low bidder today on rehabilitation work at the Sedalia Air Force Base.

The firm bid $90,721.18, as compared with the government estimate of $83,932.79. There were three other bidders.

The work will involve the rehabilitation of 12 structures, 10 on a long term basis and two on a temporary basis, two fuel dispensing units, pump house and a motor pool pump.

The contractor will have 180 calendar days to complete the work.

40 New State Patrolmen Training Here

State Fairgrounds Is Site of 6 Weeks Special Instruction

Forty men are attending a training school at the Missouri State Fair grounds for a six week period, starting Monday, to be instructed in the duties of a State Patrol Officer.

These men will be added to the various State Patrol Troops where patrolmen were assigned to give the Missouri drivers' tests.

Some of the subjects which will be given at the school are: Both standard and advanced Red Cross first aid, of which 30 class hours will be given; motor vehicle law, which will cover ownership, registration, operation of vehicles, driver's license law and law requirements, 18 hours; traffic control and accident investigation and Missouri geography, which will include the location of counties, county seats and highways.

The men will also study Missouri history and government, criminal law and fingerprinting.

Particular emphasis will be placed on scientific crime detection, which will raise the questions of what can be done to detect crime and how to look for, collect and mark evidence.

Besides these courses, the men will have actual instruction and practice in the mechanics of arrest. They will study court procedure, public speaking, public relations and self defense, including judo.

Special ranges have been set up on the grounds for practice in handling firearms. The men will learn to handle all the weapons which are used by the patrol and especially when and where to use them.

Special training will be given in searching, interviewing, identification of persons, location of penal institutions and the technique of patrolling. This will include what to look for on patrol and how to establish road blocks.

The trainees, who have already been screened and investigated, must complete this course in a satisfactory manner before they receive their commissions.

The commissions will be presented to those who pass the course by Col. David E. Harrison, superintendent of the state patrol, at a special service which will be held at the fairgrounds at the completion of the study.

The courses are being taught by members of the state patrol, who have had special training in various fields and by several outside authorities.

These men who receive their commissions will be placed with experienced patrolmen for a probationary period of six months. After this period they will become regular members of the Missouri State Patrol.

The average day at the school is very full of classes and field work. Here is a program of an average day:

Reveille 6 a. m.; setting exercises 6:15 to 6:30 p. m.; breakfast 7 a. m.; classes 8 a. m. to noon; lunch, noon, until 1 p. m.; classes, which usually are field exercises, 1 to 5 p. m.; dinner, classes 7:30 through 9:30 p. m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday; 1 p. m. lights out.

The men are not allowed to leave the grounds except in cases of extreme emergency. They are allowed to attend church on Sunday and their free nights are used for study.

The school for the trainees is under the direction of Lt. K. K. Johnson, state patrol officer from Jefferson City.

CIO Delegation Asks President to Run Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—A CIO delegation urged President Truman today to change his decision not to seek re-election. But apparently it made little or no headway.

Joseph A. Fisher, president of the Legislative Institute of CIO Utility Workers, said Truman replied to the suggestion that he change his mind, "no, that's impossible."

Steel Strike Cuts Working Hours In KC

KANSAS CITY, (AP)—The steel strike has caused the Butler Manufacturing company to cut its work week from 43 to 32 hours. The firm makes steel products.

Miners To Help Steelers

John Lewis Tells Strikers His Mine Workers Get $10 Millions to Assist

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Lewis told the striking CIO Steelworkers today his mine workers are "in the fight with you" and said his union is getting up a 10 million dollar fund to help them win their strike.

Lewis, head of the 400,000-member mine workers union, pledged the full support of his union in a message to Philip Murray, leader of the CIO unionists who walked off their jobs 17 days ago in a dispute over wages and a union shop.

The mineworkers' chieftain said Murray's steelworkers are engaged in a fight with "rapacious and predatory interests."

But, he said, he is confident the steelworkers will win their objectives "by the strength and fortitude of your great membership, and by the legitimate support of American labor."

Lewis said any attempt to invoke the Taft-Hartley Act to stop the steel strike would be "a heinous crime against American labor, antisocial in its concept, and seriously destructive of confidence in the principles of our American republic."

Murray's union could draw on the 10 million dollar fund as needed to finance their strike, and could repay it whenever they were able.

Lewis spoke up shortly after Economic Stabilizer Roger L. Putnam reported that the steel industry has been assured "friendly and sympathetic" consideration of a steel price boost if a strike settlement is achieved.

Training School Escapee Caught At Cross Timbers

Freedom was short for three inmates of the Missouri Training School at Boonville who escaped Tuesday. One was captured near Warsaw, the other two in Springfield by the State Highway Patrol.

Robert Grant, 15, Kansas City, was apprehended at Cross Timbers school at Warsaw, and Max Schuman, 16, and Marvin Gene Johns, 15, both of Springfield, were captured there late Tuesday.

The trio had commandeered a training school truck after overpowering a guard at the school. Three others who escaped with the trio were apprehended in Jefferson City in a car stolen at California, Mo. But the trio who continued their journey kept the truck and abandoned it about eight miles south of Sedalia.

Grant obtained a ride in a car with a man and woman tourist at Warsaw. They were overtaken at Cross Timbers by State Trooper Glenn Means and asked if the boy was a "hitchhiker." Grant, on his way back to Warsaw, admitted having escaped the school at Boonville. The other two escapees had obtained a ride in a pickup truck and were taken at Springfield.

Training school officials are enroute to Springfield to get the two there and will return to Warsaw to pick up Grant to return them to the institution.

The truck was brought to Sedalia by the Chamberlin wrecker and released to the school officials Wednesday morning.

Senate Kills Bill To OK St. Lawrence Seaway, Power Project

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate, spurning a last-minute plea by President Truman, today killed a bill to authorize the United States to join with Canada in constructing the $18 million dollar St. Lawrence seaway and power project.

It adopted 43 to 40 a motion by Sen. O'Connor (D-Md.) to return the bill to its Foreign Relations Committee for further study. The Senate thus repeated action it took in 1947, the last time a similar bill was up for Senate consideration.

The measure, opponents and proponents agree, now has no chance of being brought up again at this session of Congress, nearing adjournment or recess until after the national political conventions.

Dr. Sander Still Not Permitted to Practice

MANCHESTER, N. H. (AP)—Dr. Hermann N. Sander, acquitted two years ago of a charge of killing a cancer patient by injecting air into her veins, was refused permission for a second time last night to resume practice in two Manchester hospitals.

The Hillsborough County Medical Society voted 45-40 in favor of the 43-year-old country doctor from Canada but he needed a two-thirds majority to be re-admitted.

Dr. Sander was suspended from the society a short time after his acquittal in March, 1950. Membership in the organization is required before a physician may practice in the hospitals.

Australian Drought Relief Fails, Million Cattle to Die

SYDNEY (AP)—All hope of relief before November from the great North Australian drought now has been officially abandoned. This grim decision came by radio from government officers sent by truck across the desolate plains that stretch in three directions from Darwin. They say light, bog-making showers now will only hasten the death of the million head of cattle in the drought region.

An area comparable in size with the whole of Free Europe is gripped by a strange and devastating drought which experts believe will have its repercussions on trade and even defense for 10 to 15 years. Already the minister for agriculture and commerce, J. McEwen, has announced Australia cannot expect to export any beef this year. The drought is expected to cut the output by nearly 100,000 tons.

Australia's output of beef last year was 652,000 tons, of which more than 60,000 tons was exported. The beef cattle population was 10,200,000, a record. Beef exports for the nine months to the end of March brought Australia $9,755,200, a drop of $1,612,800 from the corresponding period in 1950-51.

A Brisbane (Queensland) newspaper editor has just returned from a 2,500-mile tour of the stricken area including the world's largest cattle station, Alexandria square miles. The manager's truck travels 30,000 miles a year without leaving the property.

"There is hardly a drop of surface water left," says the editor in his report. "The Aborigines have abandoned their rain-making. . . . Every night for months their chants and dances went on around the camp fires, but medicine men now admit they are licked."

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP)—The Malayan government has awarded $4,290 to three Communist terrorists who surrendered recently and later returned to their jungle camp to bring out 10 compatriots and quantities of weapons. The 13 Reds, all Chinese, had said they feared to surrender before as they had been told all who surrendered were either put to death or jailed.

SCREW WORM CONTROL
The screw worm problem is of such serious nature that research is constantly in progress to develop the most effective products possible for control.
Animals infested with screw worms lose weight rapidly and get into a run-down condition and quite often if not treated, die. Smear No. 62 is one of the older preparations that is widely used and is very effective...it kills and prevents infestation. EQ 335 is a new product which was also developed by the Department of Agriculture after extensive experimentation in Texas. EQ 335 kills and prevents, it contains Lindane and leaves a softer covering over the wound and promotes faster healing. This product is non-staining and clean to use.
The newest addition to the group of screw worm killers is a screw worm bomb which promises to be a huge success because of the simplicity of use...all you do is press down on a valve button and spray the solution into the wound. It kills screw worms, and promotes healing and prevents reinfestation for at least a week.

La Monte Man Takes Bride At Independence

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon, Sunday, June 8, Miss Lillian Vestal, Independence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. June Vestal, Winston, Mo., became the bride of Mr. Jewel Sparks of Independence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sparks, La Monte, at the home of her parents.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. K. D. Cannaday.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a navy blue suit with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Miss Pauline Brown of Independence was the bride's only attendant. She wore a blue suit with white accessories.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Vestal wore a pink flowered silk dress. Mrs. Sparks, mother of the bridegroom, wore a tan suit. Both wore pink carnation corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held. Wedding cake and ice cream were served to 30 guests.

Serving at the reception were Misses Betty and Evelyn Vestal, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Henry Vestal, Faucett, Mo., aunt of the bride.

Both are employed at Remington Arms Company.

After June 12 they will be at home in Independence.

Mrs. Phillips, Howard Blau Wed In Illinois

In the chapel of the First Methodist Church in Oak Park, Ill., Mrs. Dorothy Lee Phillips, daughter of Mrs. Mildred Yeater, Chicago, and Mr. Guy Yeater, route 3, Sedalia, became the bride of Mr. Howard Blau, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Blau, 1318 South Carr, at 7:30 o'clock in the evening of Friday, June 13.

The Rev. Charles Coulter read the ceremony before a setting of palms, lighted tapers and large bouquets of white gladioli, snapdragon and peonies.

Mrs. Frank Smith sang "I Love Thee" and "Because" preceding the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" at the close of the ceremony.

For her wedding, the bride chose a powder blue nylon dress and white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Mrs. J. C. Yeater, route 3, sister-in-law of the bride and only attendant, wore a pin-checked black and white silk dress and white accessories. Whit gardenias formed her corsage.

Mr. Arnold E. Blau, 1318 South Carr, served his brother as best man.

Both the mother of the bride and bridegroom wore navy blue crepe dresses with white accessories and pink carnation corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at their apartment, 4215 North Avenue, with only the immediate families and close friends attending. A two-tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom was served to the guests.

The couple left for a week's trip to Minnesota.

Those from Sedalia attending were: Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Blau, Mr. Arnold Blau, Mrs. Loren Arnett and Rodney, Mr. Tom Yeater and Mrs. J. C. Yeater and Mike.

Brotherhood Program On Fathers of the Bible

Father's Day was observed Monday night at the meeting of the Men's Brotherhood of the East Sedalia Baptist Church held in the church basement. Speakers dealt with fathers of the Bible and in the present day. They were John L. Blum, W. S. Hudson and Roy Looney. They were introduced by Elmer Kresse, program chairman.

James Carver, president, presided at the meeting.

Girl Scout Camp Notes--

Parents of Brownies Invited To Closing Event Thursday

By Ruth Maurine Hoffman
Parents of all Brownie Scout campers are invited to attend the closing program of the four-day Girl Scout Brownie Camp which will be held in Liberty Park Thursday morning beginning at 9:30 a.m.

The program will be as follows: "Dance of the Fall Moon" and "Dance of the Clear Sky," "Crocodile Song" and "Brownie Smile Sing" by the campers; recognition of four-day campers, given by Mrs. Knapp; and display of handwork at the park shelter house.

An Indian theme was chosen for Brownie Camp this year. Girls should not bring lunches for Thursday because they will be dismissed before noon.

Sixty-seven Brownies were present at Liberty Park Monday for the opening day of camp.

During the morning the girls participated in the flag ceremony

Inter-City Golf Matches Starting Here

Teams From Four Central Mo. Towns Playing Thursday

Thursday afternoon the opening round of the 1952 inter-city golf matches will get under way at the Sedalia Country Club with country club teams from Sedalia, Jefferson City, Columbia and Fulton as the participants. Local golf followers will be privileged to watch many stars of the links from Central Missouri in action on the beautiful Country Club layout.

The number one foursome will include such stars of the game as Dr. Paul Leslie of Jefferson City, the 1950 winner of the Sedalia pro-amateur tournament, former Louisiana state amateur champion and former western amateur champion, Dr. Leslie played Tommy "Thunder" Bolt, one of the top professionals and money winners twice for the Louisiana state amateur crown.

Pitted against Leslie will be Jim McKinney, the 1950 captain of the Missouri University golf team and one of the outstanding Central Missouri amateurs, and Gentry Patterson, 1951 Sedalia Country Club champion. Also playing in this foursome will be "Spec" Hingale of Fulton, a long ball hitter.

In the number two spot will be Chauncey Simpson of Columbia, University of Missouri coach, Henry Andrea, long ball hitter from Jefferson City, Alan Tawse, three time country club champion from Sedalia, and Fulton's Robertson of Gene Kimball, Westminister College athletic coach.

In the number three foursome will be such fine golfers as Herb Shroeder of Jefferson City, 1951 runner-up for that club's championship to Dr. Leslie, "Red" Carrington of Fulton, Bus Entsminger of Columbia, former quarter-back conference all star quarterback, and Charley Patterson of Sedalia, three times winner of the Sedalia country club's annual 36-hole medal play tournament.

In another foursome Sedalia's Mayor Herb Studer will probably be matched with Jim T. Blair from Jefferson City.

Other players representing the Sedalia club in the tournament will be Damon Hieronymus, John Van Dyne, Elliot Stafford Jr., and Jud Grayston, all veterans of inter-city tournament play and to round out the ten players on the team will be two "rookies", Lloyd Parker and longhitting Harold Jung.

After Thursday's play on the local course the tourney will move to Jefferson City on Thursday, June 26, Fulton on Thursday, July 10, and the finale at Columbia, Thursday, July 17.

The Sedalia club is fielding a fine team in this year's play and is hoping to jump out into a lead in the battle for points Sedalia has not been able to win the trophy in the post-war years.

New York Blood Drive
NEW YORK (AP) — About 230,000 pints of blood have been collected so far this year for the American Red Cross in the New York area. Dr. William M. Markel, program administrator, has announced.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Augusta Brunjes
Mrs. Augusta Brunjes, who lived five miles north of Stover, died at 3:30 a. m. Tuesday at the Wetzel Clinic in Clinton. She had been ill for about three weeks.

She was born Aug. 23, 1891. She is survived by her husband, Louis Brunjes, and three brothers, Dick Gerken of Versailles and Anton and Otto Gerken, both of Stover.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday at the Christ Lutheran Church in Stover. The Rev. R. C. Cram will conduct the service in the absence of the regular pastor who is on vacation.

Burial will be in the Stover Cemetery.

Mrs. Katherine Curry
Mrs. Katherine Curry, formerly a Pettis County resident, died at her home in Colorado Springs, Colo., Wednesday morning.

She was born in Pettis County Oct. 10, 1862, eldest child of George Blake and Mary Morgan Woodson, and married James T. Curry Dec. 20, 1882. They resided in Saline County until 1906 when they came to Sedalia to make their home, residing at 423 South Park.

They were the parents of two children, a son, Irvin, who passed away in 1908, and a daughter, Mrs. Ethel Mayse, who resided at the home. She was also preceded in death by her husband, who died in 1911.

Three brothers, George W. Jess and Walter Woodson, and a sister, Mrs. Minnie Lamm, also preceded her in death.

With her daughter, Mrs. Curry moved in 1920 to Colorado Springs, where she has since made her home. She is also survived by her brother, Albert T. Woodson, 1604 South Carr, a niece, Mrs. M. E. Green of 624 East 14th; and numerous other relatives in Pettis County, among them being Mrs. E. M. Scott of Beaman, a niece, Whitley Woodson, Jefferson City, is a nephew.

The body, accompanied by her daughter, will arrive in Sedalia Friday morning and funeral services will be held at the Gillespie Funeral Home at 2 p. m. Friday.

The Rev. Lee F. Soxman, pastor of the Fifth Street Methodist Church, of which the deceased was a member while in Sedalia, will have charge of the services. Nephews will be pallbearers.

Burial will be in the family lot in Crown Hill Cemetery.

James Dewis Foster

James Dewis Foster, 52, died at 6:10 p. m. Tuesday at the Bothwell Hospital. He was an industrial engineer and resided on a farm three miles west of Syracuse.

He was born April 12, 1900 in Morgan County, son of Mrs. Lela Hogg and the late Oscar L. Foster. His father, brother and two sisters preceded him in death.

Surviving are his widow, one daughter Mrs. Glen Tetters, Kansas City, Kan., a son J. D. Foster in the U. S. Navy and his mother, Mrs. Foster, a member of Mt. Moriah Baptist Church and funeral services have been set tentatively for 10 a. m. Friday at the church with the Rev. Wayne Masters, pastor of the Syracuse Baptist Church and the Rev. ROTARY'S NEW CHIEF—H. J. Brunner, above of San Francisco, has been named as President of Rotary International for the 1952-53 fiscal year. Brunner, a consulting engineer, has been a Rotarian since 1908.

Such a Program Would Be Benefit To All Citizens

The county health program, set up by the County Health Center for Pettis County if such a unit should be established, would be determined by the needs of the county, said Chester G. Starr, director of Rural Health Service of the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation in an address Tuesday night at the Courthouse.

The city of Sedalia and rural Pettis County would share the benefits of the program, Mr. Starr said. It is a program of sanitation and prevention of disease. It is much easier to prevent sickness, the speaker said, than to cure it.

Mr. Starr explained that a request from the school board would provide the services of the health center and the school nurse could, if such was desired, be transferred to the health center. The services would also be available to the parochial schools. Likewise, sanitation problems of the city, such things as milk, sewer, water and restaurant inspection, could be turned over to the health unit if the mayor and city council requested it, so there would be no double taxation. He added that in many ways it would be less expensive.

All of the same services would be provided for the Negroes, Mr. Starr said.

The personnel must meet the minimum qualifications established by the Division of Health and the government of the health center is under a board of five trustees. The first five trustees would be selected by the county court and could be men and women, all men or all women. They would serve until the first general election then the voters would select the five trustees, three for two years, two for four years, and not more than three from the city or more than three from the rural area.

The speaker said. These trustees, he continued, serve without salary and have the full power to employ or fire personnel, set salaries and determine the program. It is purely non-partisan, he said, and any person wanting to be on the ballot may do so by filing with the county clerk.

Before a county health center is started, Mr. Starr said, it is well to think over the needs, make surveys and pick out the most necessary projects and do them first. Then other problems will come up and services will be added. Some will be short range programs, such as school health.

One thing is the education of mothers to have their children immunized as early as possible, stressing the need to have this done before the child is two years old.

Mr. Starr pointed out that the public health program had meant to the people. He said we rarely have a mother who has her children immunized as early as possible, stressing the need to have this done before the child is two years old.

Stanley Dingley sued his wife Violet for a divorce, alleging misconduct with one John P. O'Sullivan, he claimed 250 pounds sterling ($700) damages from the co-respondent.

Judge William G. Earengue granted the decree but commented "Her value to him was diminishing from year to year because of disagreements. Ultimately she told him she preferred another man and then went off with the other man."

"In the circumstances I cannot assess her value at 250 pounds, or anything like it. The utmost I shall allow is 75 pounds ($120)."

Report UN Fires 15 Americans For Red Activity

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today the United Nations has ousted 15 American employees of its Secretariat staff who have been suspected of "illegal Communist activities" and plans to dismiss over 30 more.

The newspaper quoting "highly reliable sources" said the firings have been going on for several months and probably will continue until the end of 1952.

The Times story said: Charges being made against UN staff members are coming largely from such government agencies in Washington as the Department of Justice and the State Department, and from reports coming out of the New York federal grand jury investigation of subversive activities.

About a half-dozen Secretariat members have been called before the grand jury. Several of these have been dismissed or allowed to resign.

One staff economist, Irving Kaplan, was ousted after he refused to answer a question on whether he had been a spy. Kaplan claimed the answer might tend to incriminate him.

It was learned that some influential persons had urged U.N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie to make a clean sweep of "trouble-makers," "undesirables" and "subversives."

Lie was said to have insisted that substantial proof be submitted to U.N. officials against persons accused of subversive activities.

Windsor Man Hurt In Auto Accident

Clifford Nevins, 59, Windsor, suffered severe lacerations about his head early Wednesday when the car in which he was riding crashed into a ditch, spun around and rolled over on the right side. The accident occurred about 1:30 a. m., about eight miles south of Sedalia on Highway 65.

Nevins was picked up by passing motorists from Windsor and taken to a hospital where his injuries were attended by a doctor.

Damages to the car were estimated at about $800. The car was towed to the Chamberlin Service Station.

British Judge Holds Wife May Depreciate

LONDON (AP)—A British judge held today that a wife, like an automobile, may depreciate in value with the passing years.

Judge William G. Earengue granted the decree but commented "Her value to him was diminishing from year to year because of disagreements. Ultimately she told him she preferred another man and then went off with the other man."

Steel Limping On 12 Percent Normal Output

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The strike-bound steel industry—backbone of the national defense program—is limping along today on 12 per cent of its normal weekly output of 2,134,000 tons.

Only 15 per cent of the mills are producing and most of these are owned by companies which have contracts with independent unions.

While 650,000 of Philip Murray's CIO steelworkers are striking, the government is trying desperately to work out a program for some steel plants to produce materials vitally needed for the military effort.

The White House says "considerable progress" has been made in conferences with the company and union. An announcement is expected soon.

Among the bigger producers still operating are Weirton Steel Company and Armco. Both have contracts with independent unions.

Then there is Kaiser Steel Company, which has signed a new agreement with Murray's union. Many of the smaller companies have resumed operation after pledging to accept terms reached when the final settlement is made with the big producers.

The American Iron and Steel Institute says strikes so far this year have resulted in a loss of 3½ million tons of steel. It estimates the total will increase 262,000 tons each day the strike continues.

In addition to the idled steelworkers, more than 100,000 employees in allied industries have been laid off because of the steel strike.

Since the strike was called June 2 no serious steel shortages have occurred but the pressure is beginning to mount.

In the past few days three companies announced they will be forced to stop making munitions this week.

Lempco Products, Inc., in Cleveland, halted making mortar shells. The Oldsmobile Division of General Motors said a shortage of steel tubing will force its 3.5-inch rocket plant at Lansing, Mich., to close June 23. Ford Motor Company at Detroit announced it may be forced to close down rocket production before the end of the week.

International Harvester Company is preparing to lay off 50,000 production workers in six states. A spokesman said nearly 90 per cent of the company's operations will be shut down by July 3.

U.S. Steel Corp.—world's largest basic steel producer—and Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., the fourth largest, have sent letters to striking employees to explain industry's last wage offer.

C. F. Hood, executive vice president in charge of operations, told 200,000 big steel employees they would have received a "minimum increase" of $1 a day if the terms had been accepted. Basic steel workers now are paid an average of $1.95 an hour.

The government reportedly wants something under 500,000 tons of finished steel monthly from the struck plants to meet military and atomic energy needs. That is about 7 per cent of normal output.

Murray and the industry both have agreed to the reopening of a few plants for defense. Murray named a four-man committee to confer with the government and industry.

Working out a program to produce only defense metal is a complicated job, mainly because the military uses large quantities of specialized steels.

It would be expensive to operate the big open hearth furnaces for a particular product ordered in small quantities.

Proposes Again, 53 Years Later, This Time 'Girl' Accepts

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Edward Allen Smith was turned down when he first proposed to Miss Kathryn Voss but he has finally won her over—53 years later.

They'll be married today at nearby Ocean View.

The two grew up together in Big Rapids, Mich., but Smith came here in 1899 to get a job. He wrote her and proposed.

"I was visiting friends in Duluth, Minn., was having a good time and was going with other boys. I wrote and turned him down," she explains.

She later married someone else. So did Smith.

Smith's wife died, as did Mrs. Roberts' husband. The two were reunited in January of this year in St. Petersburg, Fla. Smith said, "I wanted her 53 years ago so I proposed again."

Harriman Defeats Kefauver In District of Columbia Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Averell Harriman's approval of his campaign, scored a 3½-to-1 victory over Sen. Estes Kefauver in the District of Columbia presidential preference primary.

With the triumph go two prizes—the backing of the district's six-24 German jurists.

European Army Plan Now Rests With Reich Jury

BONN, Germany (AP)—The future of the ambitious plan to create a two-million-man, one-uniform European army to ward off possible Russian aggression now rests with 24 German jurists.

These judges of the Federal Constitutional Court in the South German city of Karlsruhe soon must decide whether it is constitutional for West Germany to rearm and join the European Defense Community (EDC).

The plan to merge the armed forces of six nations—West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg—does not begin to work until all six parliaments have ratified it.

In West Germany the opponents of the plan—mostly Socialists—are trying to block ratification by an appeal to the Constitutional Court. They contend that the Constitution, drawn up three years ago when German rearmament was not contemplated, makes no provision for the recruiting of armed forces.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government replies that nothing in the Constitution specifically forbids military forces.

The court's answer will decide whether the army treaty and the associated peace contract with the Western Allies can be ratified by the present Parliament.

If the court rules that a change of the Constitution is necessary, the whole plan will topple. Constitutional amendments require a two-thirds vote of Parliament's lower house, the Bundestag, which Adenauer's right-wing three-party coalition cannot muster.

If the court decides that only a simple majority is necessary to approve rearmament, the Adenauer government is considered fairly sure to get the measures through the lower house.

Officers Take Ill Girl From Ozarks Church

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—Officers entered an Ozarks Mountain church last night and, despite protests by the congregation, carried off a seriously burned 16-year-old girl who had been held without medical attention for 24 hours.

The church members had sought to heal her by prayer.

The officers took Ruth Carder from the Free Pentecost Mission Church at Mountain Grove, Mo., and sent her to a Springfield hospital in an ambulance.

The girl was burned about the face, chest and shoulders by an oil stove explosion at her home in Mountain Grove Monday night.

Her widowed mother, Mrs. Cora Carder, took her to the church. About 100 worshippers started a nonstop effort to heal her by prayer as she lay on a cot behind the pulpit, Sheriff Jim Baker reported.

A physician entered the church yesterday morning but said he was not allowed to treat her.

County Prosecutor Garner Moody, who went with Baker and two other officers to get the girl, said:

"When we got in and saw her lying on that cot the sight of her made me sick." He said she had been given no medical aid whatever.

The officers said the church members were "in an awful state of hysteria—screaming and shouting."

Hospital attendants reported the girl was resting comfortably today, but probably would have to stay in the hospital several weeks.

The prosecutor said he did not plan to file charges.

Boy Hitchhikes 2,500 Miles to See Father

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP)—Dale Salisbury, a 16-year-old Sunland, Calif., youth, today hopes he can remain in Michigan with his father—the dad he hitchhiked 2,500 miles to see.

Dale and his father, Howard Larrie, were reunited yesterday after eight years. They hadn't shared a father-son relationship since Dale was six weeks old. At that time his family was broken up and both his mother and father remarried.

The youth previously made two attempts to come from California to Michigan—each time he was apprehended by authorities a short distance from his home. This time police picked him up after he got to Michigan. He was placed in care of juvenile detention officials until his father was found here.

Boy Accidentally Kills His Mother

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A 9-year-old boy accidentally killed his mother yesterday with a Civil War musket.

The ancient gun had been purchased the previous day by his father to start an antique firearms collection.

Mrs. Ellen Sandman, 40, was shot as she stood near the back steps of her home. Her son Mark had placed a paper cap used in toy pistols beneath the hammer of the musket before firing.

Joseph M. Sandman, the father, told police he had no idea the gun was loaded. Officers said apparently a spark from the cap ignited a charge of pellets which could have been in the barrel for years.

7 Die In Home Fire

NEW YORK (AP)—Seven persons died when fire swept a four-story apartment house in Brooklyn early today.

A cripple, his wife and two children—trapped in a second-floor front apartment—were rescued by a neighbor in a dramatic flight through bursts of flame along a ledge 1½ feet wide.

When Leonard Peabody went home to change his clothes, after the dunking Saturday in the tank of water, for not having on Western clothes, his seven-year-old daughter, Kathy, was thrilled beyond words—she just couldn't think of a nicer thing that could happen than to be dunked in a tank of water.

"Oh, Daddy," she said, "If I put on my bathing suit and went down do you suppose they would dunk me?"

But her daddy thought one dunking in the family was enough and wouldn't let her go—but Kathy still thinks that it was a great idea.

A sailor boy home on leave is pretty fond of a young Sedalia girl and he has been trying to make a good impression on her father, as all boys do on their girl's dads.

The other day the father was out painting a fence with a spray gun and the boy was playing croquet. He swung at the ball and missed—he swung again and missed—that is he missed the ball—but the head of the mallet came off, went whizzing over to the fence and hit the father on the leg—and about that time the sailor wished he was riding the ocean waves.

But the father is a good sport and he knew it was unintentional so everything worked out all right.

Senators Criticize HST For Neglecting National Defenses

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON—The Senate preparedness committee has sent to the printer a sensational report on the nation's lagging defenses, charging flatly that President Truman ignored the warnings of the joint chiefs of staff and put "fiscal considerations" ahead of the nation's safety. This is the committee's conclusion after the six months of meeting behind locked doors and studying top-secret reports.

The senators considered the report so urgent that they felt it should not be withheld any longer. They cite 1954 as the year of our "greatest national peril" and sharply criticize the President for his stretch-out program on aircraft production.

"In the face of the solemn warning by the joint chiefs of staff, President Truman largely on the basis of advice given by civilian officials made a decision based on fiscal considerations, the end result of which was to postpone beyond the date of our gravest danger the attainment of our necessary modern air power," the report declares bluntly.

Quoting from a secret JCS memo, the committee warns: "The joint chiefs of staff desire to re-affirm that they consider the general period of 1954 to be the most dangerous for the security of the United States in the foreseeable future."

Compelling Reasons

"An additional drag-out of our aircraft production program," the committee warns, "would drastically affect our state of readiness by postponing the consummation of our preparedness effort until 1957 or even later. . . . The planes we are cutting back now are those that we may need in the not too distant future."

The committee adds, however, that "our studies have shown a lack of cost consciousness in the military department. We are convinced that there is a 'fa' which can be eliminated. A better utilization by the military of manpower services, undoubtedly would result in substantial savings. Savings, however, should be accomplished selectively without jeopardizing the procurement and production of essential military hardware, especially aircraft. To save dollars in this field at the sacrifice of necessary air power will be foolhardy."

Continuing, the report declares: "There are compelling reasons for presenting these conclusions at this particular time. We are still living in the days when the United States can determine its own destiny. But those days are numbered, and the numbers may not be in very great magnitude. . . . Should we withhold this report until a later date, it will be of no interest to anyone except the historians of the future, seeking to interpret the facts of this decade. Unless our leaders act wisely in the present, it is only too possible that the interpretations will be made from the Soviet point of view."

Saving Miner's Lives

Efficient Congressman Graham Barden, chairman of the House education and labor committee, has a temper like a North Carolina mountain bear when riled, and he was plenty riled when his committee vetoed his efforts to delay action on a new mine-safety bill to prevent tragic coal-mine disasters.

Barden had been placidly sitting on this important measure for two months and he was all set for delaying action further. He wanted his committee to hold prolonged hearings, even though hearings have been held already.

However, when committee colleagues saw through this little scheme and voted 9 to 5 to terminate the hearings after three days, Barden was fit to be tied. In a red-faced rage, he growled at colleagues who dared to oppose him. "You've made your decision and I'll abide by it, but it's a bad decision. We have a lot of witnesses who have not been heard on this important question. You are denying them, that right. You want to run the show."

Democrat Gus Kelley and Republican Sam McConnell, both of Pennsylvania, didn't bother to remind Barden that he had really been "running the show" on mine safety and that it was a slow-motion picture.

Democrat Cleveland Bailey of West Virginia was more blunt. Pointing out that extensive hearings on the bill were held and completed by a subcommittee two months ago, the West Virginian added bitterly:

"The result, if not the purpose, of additional hearings beyond three more days will be to forestall a vote by the House on this measure, which gives the federal government the long-delayed right to shut down unsafe mines and prevent more tragedies. We've only got about two weeks left before adjournment to enact this measure into law. On behalf of the miners of West Virginia, I say 'Let's Get Busy.'"

Sham Battle

Only a few people such as Speaker Sam Rayburn know the full inside story of the battle over tidelands oil, and Sam is too unhappy to talk much about it.

Rayburn, a loyal Texan, was in on a big plan which would have saved Texas a lot of offshore oil, but, thanks to Texas Attorney General Price Daniel, it fizzled. The plan was based on the fact that Texas is in a better position historically than any other tidelands state, but in a worse position geologically.

Historically, Texas came into the Union under special treaty by which its offshore lands belong to the state. But geologically, no real oil has been found within 10 miles off the Texas coast. The oil areas are about 17 miles or more offshore.

Had Texas played its own solitary game, in keeping with the tradition of the Lone Star state, it would have been much better off today. But several years ago, Ed Pauley, the California oilman, made a political deal with Myron Bialock, Texas Democratic leader, to get Texas to join with the other tidelands states—Louisiana and California.

Later, Sam Rayburn tried to untie this deal. He worked out a plan with the federal administration whereby the federal government would swap one-third of the oil inside the 10-mile limit for one-third of the oil outside the 10-mile limit on the continental shelf.

It was like swapping one rabbit for one horse, since there wasn't any oil inside the 10-mile limit for Texas to give away.

However, young, enthusiastic Price Daniel, the attorney general of Texas, upset Rayburn's deal. He insisted that Texas go along with the other tidelands states. As a result, Texas has lost more than any other state.

In the tidelands vote scheduled for tomorrow, Texas senators will make a big show of opposing the President. But actually they know that it doesn't make any difference to Texas however they vote. For there just isn't any real oil off the Texas coast inside the 10-mile limit. From the Texas viewpoint, it's pretty much a sham battle.

Bloody Hill Taken After 6 Days Of Savage War

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Bloody Hill T was comparatively quiet today after six days of savage fighting for that Western Front high point. U.S. infantrymen wrested it from the Chinese last Thursday.

For five straight nights the Chinese threw battalion size—about 750 men—counterattacks against Americans holding three rocky knobs of the hill. Each attack was beaten off.

"There was no contact and very little artillery and mortar fire," an officer said.

The most recent Chinese assault was beaten off early Tuesday. An estimated 157 Reds were killed or wounded, some in bayonet fighting. Action decreased all along the 55-mile front, the U.S. Eighth Army reported, and was limited to patrol skirmishes.

Red shelling Monday night and Tuesday fell off to 7,714 rounds from 18,500 rounds the preceding 24-hour period.

Twenty-two B26 bombers harassed Red positions during the night. Nine light bombers hit a supply center at Yangdok, about 75 miles north of Chonwon. Two others bombed the rail yards at Sukchon in the Northwest.

Fighter-bombers in close support of ground troops reported destruction of 80 troop and supply vehicles, 41 gun positions, 46 supply buildings and 29 supply vehicles.

MacArthur Keynote Puzzles

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Anyone who has followed Gen. MacArthur's career for the past year may be a little puzzled by the rumpus over his making the keynote speech at the Republican National Convention in Chicago.

There is an Army rule that an officer like MacArthur, on active duty, cannot participate in "activity at political conventions, or on political committees, the making of political speeches. . . ."

When Gen. Eisenhower came to campaign, he went on the retired list. This left him free to run for the presidency or make political speeches since the Army rule covers only officers on active duty.

Last week Sen. Taft gained control of the GOP National Convention machinery through appointments made by the Republican National Committee, which at the same time picked a Taft supporter for keynote, Gen. MacArthur.

This at once raised a question which, to those who have watched MacArthur or listened to him for the past year, might seem more academic than real.

It was this: Would the Army—or the Truman administration—let MacArthur, an officer on active duty, get up before the convention and make a political speech, per se?

The President has kept hands off, at least publicly. It would hardly be bright politics if he slapped MacArthur down again and in so doing not only created fresh sympathy for him but votes for the Republicans.

The Pentagon showed no eagerness to rebuff him, either. Yesterday it disclosed how it could let MacArthur, an officer on active duty, do what the rule book says an officer on active duty can't do: make political speeches.

The Pentagon said that while MacArthur technically is on active status—like Eisenhower—although not formally, because he has no command and no present military responsibility.

In the light of MacArthur's previous speeches, there's a question still not answered:

NEW YORK (AP)—The Long Island Rail Road announced resumption of normal service today to the relief of thousands of commuters, forced by a two-day engineers' strike into New York's worst traffic tieups in years.

Settlement of the strike came late yesterday just as suddenly as the start of the walkout. Full agreement was announced between the road and the striking members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers (Independent). Issues involved working conditions and rules.

Early today the Movements Bureau of the Long Island, busiest commuter railroad in the nation, said full service had been restored between New York City and the Long Island communities on the line's 400-miles of roadbed.

The Long Island serves an area of more than a million residents in the Long Island counties of Nassau and Suffolk and parts of the New York City boroughs of Queens and Brooklyn. It handles some 300,000 passenger fares daily.

Restoration of service was made in plenty of time for the start of the morning rush of more than 100,000 regular commuters, who have had to brave packed subways and jammed highways.

Yesterday's crush was reported the worst of all. Many Long Islanders remained home because of the strike on Monday, but yesterday they figured they had better get to work.

Wages were not a strike issue. The engineers were seeking modifications in a national railway labor settlement of last May 23, which neither the brotherhood nor the Long Island had agreed to.

Under the agreement, the railroad added protective clauses to four disputed rules changes. The road and union agreed to discuss any abuses under the amended rules after six months and try to eliminate them. A referee will be appointed to decide the disputes if there is no agreement.

Death in the Sierras

By Doris Hudson Moss

THE STORY: Rosemary Curtis finds murder instead of relaxation on a vacation in the mountains and the motive seems to be a hidden treasure in gold coin buried by early-day immigrants. Soon after Rosemary's arrival, Mrs. Ordell, a college professor's wife, was stabbed and later her body disappears. Rosemary herself was taken for a woman named Elsie Martinson who has been murdered in a nearby village. Now, as she watches beside a small lake, she sees a man wade into the lake and disappear beneath its surface. He fails to reappear.

IX

SHAKILY, I crept into my tent. Then to my complete surprise, I heard voices of the two men, still patiently waiting for me. They had not missed me and, as I emerged, Dr. David Roberts said: "You did pretty well to make yourself so charming in 15 minutes." Those minutes had seemed like a lifetime.

So positive was I that I alone could solve this dreadful situation that I did not doubt my ability or capacity to do so. As I walked toward the Lodge with the two men I was on guardedly listening to their talk and inwardly scheming to go back, unseen, to the stream.

My plans were interrupted for a moment. A police officer stepped out from behind a clump of aspen and saluted Sergeant Duncan. "On duty, Sergeant, and at your service. My name is Wallace, Captain Martin and the Coroner, Bob Gould, are here from Blue Valley. Came in by Dead Ox Flat. A posse is scattered over the district searching for the killer."

Then quite suddenly it came to me that this was the motorcycle trooper who stopped me at Carquinez Bridge and asked me to have my brakes checked. It was he who asked if I were Elsie Martinson. I remembered his insolent gray eyes.

Impulsively, I turned to Dr. Roberts and in tones little better than a whisper, I told him of the coincidence.

The President has kept hands off, at least publicly. It would hardly be bright politics if he slapped MacArthur down again and in so doing not only created fresh sympathy for him but votes for the Republicans.

My knowledge of the happening would have to wait! Now was my chance to go back to the pool. Now or never! I would not be missed for a time. I turned in the trail and sped back to my tent.

As I ran I unbuckled my belt, and jerked off my jacket and sweater as I reached the tent. It was but a minute's work to scramble out of my clothes and into my swim suit.

Again, I slipped out of the back of the tent and unsnapped Sue's leash.

As I knew she would, the good dog ran instantly to the willow brush beneath which the rifle lay hidden. She scratched at the leaves. I reached her side and scooped away more leaves. The rifle was gone!

IT was easy to see why! The murderer had come from his hiding place beneath the waters, recovered his rifle, and used it to fire the shot we heard.

I went into the water by clambering down the bank as far as possible. Then I caught a long breath, pinched my nose tightly and slithered down into the dark icy depths. It was probably 15 feet deep.

Frantically, I looked about. Green moss lay on dim stones imbedded in the bank. Water, plants waved with the motion of the water caused by my swimming. I could detect no cave, outlet, or passage.

The current dragged me slightly to the right. I pushed with my hands on the stones and felt a spot where the pool branched off and down to, apparently, an underground stream.

My breath was gone. I bobbed up to the surface beside my dog to breathe. Catching a mighty breath I grabbed poor Sue tightly and pulled her under. We went down together. She struggled violently and it took every ounce of my strength to hold her. I reached for bottom, letting myself drift with the current and we were carried into the hole or cavern where the stream led.

I found that I could stand upright with my head and shoulders out of the water. I supported Sue's paws in my arms and her head was above the surface.

IT was dark as the grave. There was probably an arched ceiling above and beyond us. The air I breathed was damp and fetid.

Then as we rounded a slight bend, I saw a faint light. It was dim and pale but it was soft yellow, blessed light of day, a deliverance for Sue and me.

I waded toward it and the heretofore black water and rock walls became a dull but comforting gray. The stream apparently branched and the large fork went to the right. To the left, at a sharp angle, I saw a cave. It was large, lighted faintly by sunshine that filtered through small cracks in the rocky ceiling and by a softly-glowing fire. I smelled the odor of wood smoke.

Shaking from head to foot but as silently as possible, I climbed up the rocky bank and out of that awful water.

Sue scrambled up beside me. The sight that met my eyes will be with me always.

When is a speech a political speech? Only at a convention! Or is it political whenever it's made if it attacks a political party in an election year and the speaker not only supports the opposition but might even be its candidate?

Since his recall from Japan MacArthur has made eight major speeches. The tone has been increasingly critical of the Truman administration without mentioning Truman by name.

In the last of the eight—to the Michigan Legislature, May 15—he declared:

"There is no politics in me, nor none intended in what I say. I plead nothing but Americanism. . . . I have been impelled as patriotic duty of simple citizenship. . . ."

From where I sit, Dad's statement applies to a lot of things besides lightning. Too many people think they know their neighbor's wrong when he votes for his candidate instead of theirs. Some people even resent our right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer if and when we choose. Opinions based on misinformation and prejudice, instead of being "grounded" on true facts can cause more damage than lightning ever did.

"Trouble is, most of us don't know half enough about the subject," Dad says. "And about half of what we do know is false!"

US No. 1 Air Ace Today Pays Tribute to Dad

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Col. Francis (Gabby) Gabreski, America's No. 1 living air ace, paused today in a hero's homecoming to pay tribute to his father—and to all United Nations forces in Korea.

Gabreski, 33, officially is credited with 40 planes destroyed—6½ in Korea and 33½ in Europe in World War II.

"Your recognition of me is more than a tribute to one individual," he said after a big parade down Market Street and an official civic welcome yesterday. "It is a tribute to the thousands who are at this very moment carrying the fight to the enemy in Korea."

Today he gave his father, Stanley Gabreski of Oil City, Pa., credit for an American success story.

"He came over (from Poland) in 1904 looking for freedom and an opportunity to live," the colonel said in an interview. "In spite of lack of knowledge of the language and customs, he worked hard—for $1 a day—in a grocery store. Finally he was able to own his own grocery business."

"He was able eventually to make a comfortable living and to send his five sons and daughters to university to become better citizens. Only the hard work and effort of my dad and mother gave us the advantages we have today."

Bad Conduct Exit For Rich Sailor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A stormy year as a sailor is ended for wealthy Bruce Hopping, who tried to tell the admirals how to run the Navy.

Twelfth Naval District headquarters said the 30-year-old reservist was handed a bad conduct discharge yesterday and a voucher for train fare back to Port Newark, N.J., where he is vice president of his father's lumber firm.

He was convicted at a recent Pearl Harbor court martial of conduct prejudicial to good order and discipline and sentenced to a bad conduct discharge. The court martial was ordered after Hopping complained to newsmen about his superior officers.

No Sabotage In Blast

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—U.S. Army headquarters said today thorough investigation of the Haemue ammunition dump fire and explosions Sunday showed no evidence of sabotage. The official probe into other possible causes is continuing.

US Moves 11,600 More Red Prisoners Without a Hitch

KOJE ISLAND, Korea (AP)—U.S. troops today moved 11,600 more Red prisoners of war from two Kojie compounds without a hitch.

During the move, 300 anti-Communist POWs broke away from the 5,600 prisoners in Compound 85 and were put in separate camps. None from 605, the other group moved, joined the anti-Reds.

Since the transfer to smaller compounds began June 10, about 1,100 prisoners have signified they are anti-Communists by breaking away from their comrades.

The moves boosted the nine-day total of POWs transferred to 62,000 of the 80,000 prisoners on this island off South Korea.

At U.S. Eighth Army headquarters in Seoul a spokesman said the United Nations Command will move "several thousand" Communist prisoners from Kojie to nearby islands. Previous reports said about 30,000 would be moved from Kojie.

Holy Cross Takes Tigers, NCAA Title

OMAHA (AP)—Eleven rugged men from Holy Cross today ruled as champions of college baseball.

With pitcher Jim O'Neill going the route and winning for the third time in the six-day tournament, the Crusaders last night defeated Missouri 8-4, for the NCAA title.

Thus, for the first time in the six-year history of the tournament the title was taken east of the Mississippi River.

Missouri had beaten Holy Cross, 1-0, in the second day of play, loser's bracket of the double elimination tournament.

With the loss of one more game meaning elimination, the Crusaders came back to win five straight, the last two from Missouri.

Holy Cross during the six days, Coach John J. Barry, oldtime major leaguer, never once changed his lineup or sent in a substitute.

The Holy Cross pitchers who started were still there in the ninth in every game. Including three pitchers, Holy Cross used only 11 men in the tourney.

O'Neill's record of three wins set a new standard for pitchers in the so-called college world series and won for him the award as the most valuable player of the tournament.

Revamped Minor League Reopens Play Tuesday

Re-opening of the Little League Minors in the Eastern division on Tuesday evening found the Tigers defeating the Cyclones 12 to 7 and the Monarchs out-slugging the Pirates 19 to 14.

John Middleton, the Tiger pitcher, struck out the first eight men to face him and then gave up a two-bagger to Jim Mulcahey, the longest hit of the game.

In the second game Cox was the winning pitcher.

The managers were moving the boys around and looking them over, trying to get an idea what position the boys play best.

Every boy got his chance to play as the managers of all the teams played the full squad.

Major league managers and scouts were all over the stands watching the play of the games as this is the last week for changes in the Majors. It is likely some of the boys who played in the two games Tuesday night will soon be called up to the Major league teams.

Chiefs Down Miners Tuesday

Barnes Pitches
8-6 Win for 2nd
Victory on Mound

Pounding out an 8 to 6 victory over the Moberly Miners on their home grounds last night, the Sedalia Chiefs maintained their top spot in the CEMO league as they made their record 6 wins against 1 defeat. This was the fourth straight for the Sedalians as Jack Barnes won his second game against no defeats.

Barnes pitched good ball and the Miners should have had but one earned run off him, that a homer in the first inning. The Miners scored four in the first when the Chiefs' short stop made three misques and was taken out of the game.

The Sedalia club started out in front by getting two tallies in the first frame when Thomas walked and moved to second on Higgins' sacrifice. Deved reached first on an error, Thomas going to third. Holst then walked to load the bases. Weist singled to drive in Thomas and Dey. Lane walked to load the bases again, but Ken Kellogg, the loser, got Cochran on a short fly to center and struck out Broadus to end the inning.

In the third the Chiefs rallied for four more when Holst doubled, Weist walked, Brown walked to load the bases, Cochran grounded to the short stop who forced Holst at the plate. Broadus then singled to push Weist and Brown across the plate. Barnes followed with a two-bagger to score Cochran and Broadus. Thomas singled, moving Barnes to third. Higgins then was robbed of a base hit as the Moberly short stop started to cover second on the double steal. Higgins smashed a ground ball through the box. The short stop came up with it. Tagged Thomas and threw to first for the twin kill to end the inning.

In the seventh the Sedalians picked up the winning runs as Holst lead off the frame with a two bagger. Weist grounded down to the short stop who got Holst going to third. Weist then stole second as the catcher threw the ball into center field. Weist moved to third. The center fielder then threw the ball over the third sacker's head allowing Weist to score. Brown walked and scored on Broadus' double off the wall in left center. Barnes ended the inning grounding out, short to first.

The Miners' other scoring came in the fourth on a hit batsman, error on the short stop, two passed balls and a walk.

Bill Holst, Chiefs' left fielder, snarked the hitting act, getting three doubles for three trips to the plate. Don Broadus also connected for three hits out of five times at bat. Short led the Moberly hitting, getting two for two.

The Chiefs will play their next game Thursday night when they tangle with the Brookfield Bombers, last year's champions. In the first game this year the Sedalians won 9 to 1, but the game was better than the score showed.

Schlitz Leaders Beat Concordia In League Game

The Schlitz Leaders walloned the Concordia VFW in a Central Missouri League game at Concordia Tuesday night by a score of 9-2.

Skeeter Elwell hurled a good game for the Leaders, giving up four scattered hits, holding the losers scoreless until the seventh when they pushed across two runs.

Deick pitched for Concordia and gave up five hits, but wiliness kept him in trouble along with two costly errors by his mates.

C. Weller led the hitting attack for the Leaders, getting two for three.

Batteries were: Concordia, Dicke and Shiflett; Sedalia, Elwell and Swisher.

The Leaders will tangle with the Carrollton Merchants at the Center Park Friday night. The Merchants will boast a strong team, as they have an eight and two record for the year.

Baseball Roundup for Tuesday--

ChiSox Win Pair, Pull Near Indians, Close Behind Yanks

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Was poker-faced Paul Richards talking with tongue in cheek the other day when he praised the New York Yankees to the skies and moaned, "How can you beat 'em?" Those who know the clever Chicago pilot believe he was trying to lull the world champions into a false sense of security and at the same time present a challenge to his own White Sox.

In any event, the Windy City club took the bait. From a listless bunch of second divisioners, Chicago has become the "go-go Sox" of the early 1951 campaign. Giving every evidence that they have perfect designs of their own, the White Sox last night swept a doubleheader from the Philadelphia Athletics, 13-1 and 2-1, to roll up their eighth and ninth wins in the last 11 games.

They're now within a half game of the faltering Cleveland Indians and three games behind the front-running Yankees. Chicago picked up ground on all the leaders as Detroit nipped the Yankees, 7-6, the St. Louis Browns beat Boston's Red Sox, 3-1, and Washington whipped the Indians, 4-3.

Brooklyn increased its National League lead to four games, walking the Chicago Cubs, 9-1, as Pittsburgh upset the second-place New York Giants, 6-2. Boston moved into a sixth place tie with Philadelphia, crushing Cincinnati, 5-1, while the Phils were held to a split in their doubleheader with the St. Louis Cardinals. After Curt Simmons had pitched the Phils to a 2-1 triumph in the opener, Al Brazie and Ed Yohan teamed up to shut them out, 4-0, in the nightcap.

Lefty Billy Pierce and right-hander Marvin Grissom turned in fine performances for the White Sox. Pierce hurled a six-hitter for his seventh win and Grissom gave up seven hits for his fourth triumph. Eddie Robinson and Minnie Minoso were the big guns as Chicago ripped off 25 hits in the twin bill.

It took the Tigers 11 innings to overcome the Yankees. The winning run resulted when Jim McDonald, fourth Yankee hurler, hit Bill Swift with a pitched ball with the bases loaded and one out. Don Lenhardt, who had singled, advanced to third on a double by Vic Wertz and an intentional pass to Walt Dropp, crossed the plate with the winning run.

Detroit had taken a 6-1 lead on a two-run homer by Wertz and a grand slammer by Pat Minton off starter Tom Morgan, but the Yankees battled back and finally tied the game on Mickey Mantle's eighth-inning homer. Fred Hutchinson, third Tiger pitcher, received credit for the win.

Earl Rapp and Jackie Jensen collected five hits between them and scored all the runs in Washington's 4-3 win over the Indians. Held hitless for five innings, the Browns erupted for three hits and many runs to hand rookie Dick Brodowski his first defeat.

Praeger Roe turned in his first complete game since May 18 as the Dodgers handed the Cubs their third straight defeat. Roe yielded four hits, two to Eddie Miksis, whose homer prevented a shutout. Gus Bell hit a grand slam homer in the seventh to snap a 2-2 tie and give Pittsburgh the win over the Giants.

Vern Bickford yielded seven hits in pitching the Braves to their victory over the Reds.

Pinch hitter Bill Nicholson singled in the run that gave Simmons his fifth victory against two defeats as the southpaw held the Cards to five hits. Nicholson's safety, a 30-foot roller down the third base line with the bases loaded and one out in the ninth, scored Ralph Caballero from third to snap a 1-1 tie.

Delph Has No-Hit Game In 28 to 1 Slaughter Tuesday

The Junior Legion Post 16 combined 15 hits with the Marshall Junior Legion's 14 errors to slaughter the visitors by a score of 28 to 1 in a game that was called at the end of the first half of the fifth here last night. The Post 16 team, playing on their home diamond, didn't make an error as Donnie Delph won another game.

Abney allowed the only run in the first of the fifth when a man walked and another hit. Delph, who had hurled the first four frames, didn't allow a hit or run. Abney came in for the fifth and pitched good ball although allowing one run.

Marion Leads Browns To 5 Wins, 4 Losses

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Nine games don't make a season but Marty Marion, new St. Louis Browns' manager, is pleased just the same. In their nine games under Marion the Browns have played one game over the .500 mark and are currently riding a three-game win streak.

The Browns got that way last night, defeating the Boston Red Sox, 3-1, on some timely hitting and Bobby Cain's four-hit pitching.

THE PICTURE THAT IS TAKING AMERICA

Air Force Plans More Protection For Mr. Acheson

By Drew Pearson
WASHINGTON — As a result of the shooting down of two Swedish airplanes over the Baltic, the U.S. Air Force is planning extra precautions when Secrelary of State Acheson flies over trigger-happy Russian gunners into Berlin.

Acheson's Berlin visit is scheduled for the end of this month. And, remembering how a French passenger plane was shot down by a Russian fighter six weeks ago, plus the wanton shooting down of two Swedish planes, the Air Force has urged Acheson to let a dozen American jets accompany his plane through the precarious Berlin air corridor. Meanwhile, intelligence sources say the Baltic Sea area, now the scene of Russian maneuvers, is one of the most strategic and heavily guarded in the world. This is where the Russians stage their most secret experiments with new rockets and V-bombs. Here also the Russians have taken over the important East German laboratories and factories at Pennemuende and Warnemuende, where Hitler manufactured many of his most secret weapons.

In addition, Russia is reported to have more naval officers and men on full time today than the U.S., which supposedly has the biggest navy in the world. The Soviet now has about four times as many submarines as the United States and one more cruiser.
During Russian maneuvers in this "hot" area, scores of fishing boats are seized, frequently with-

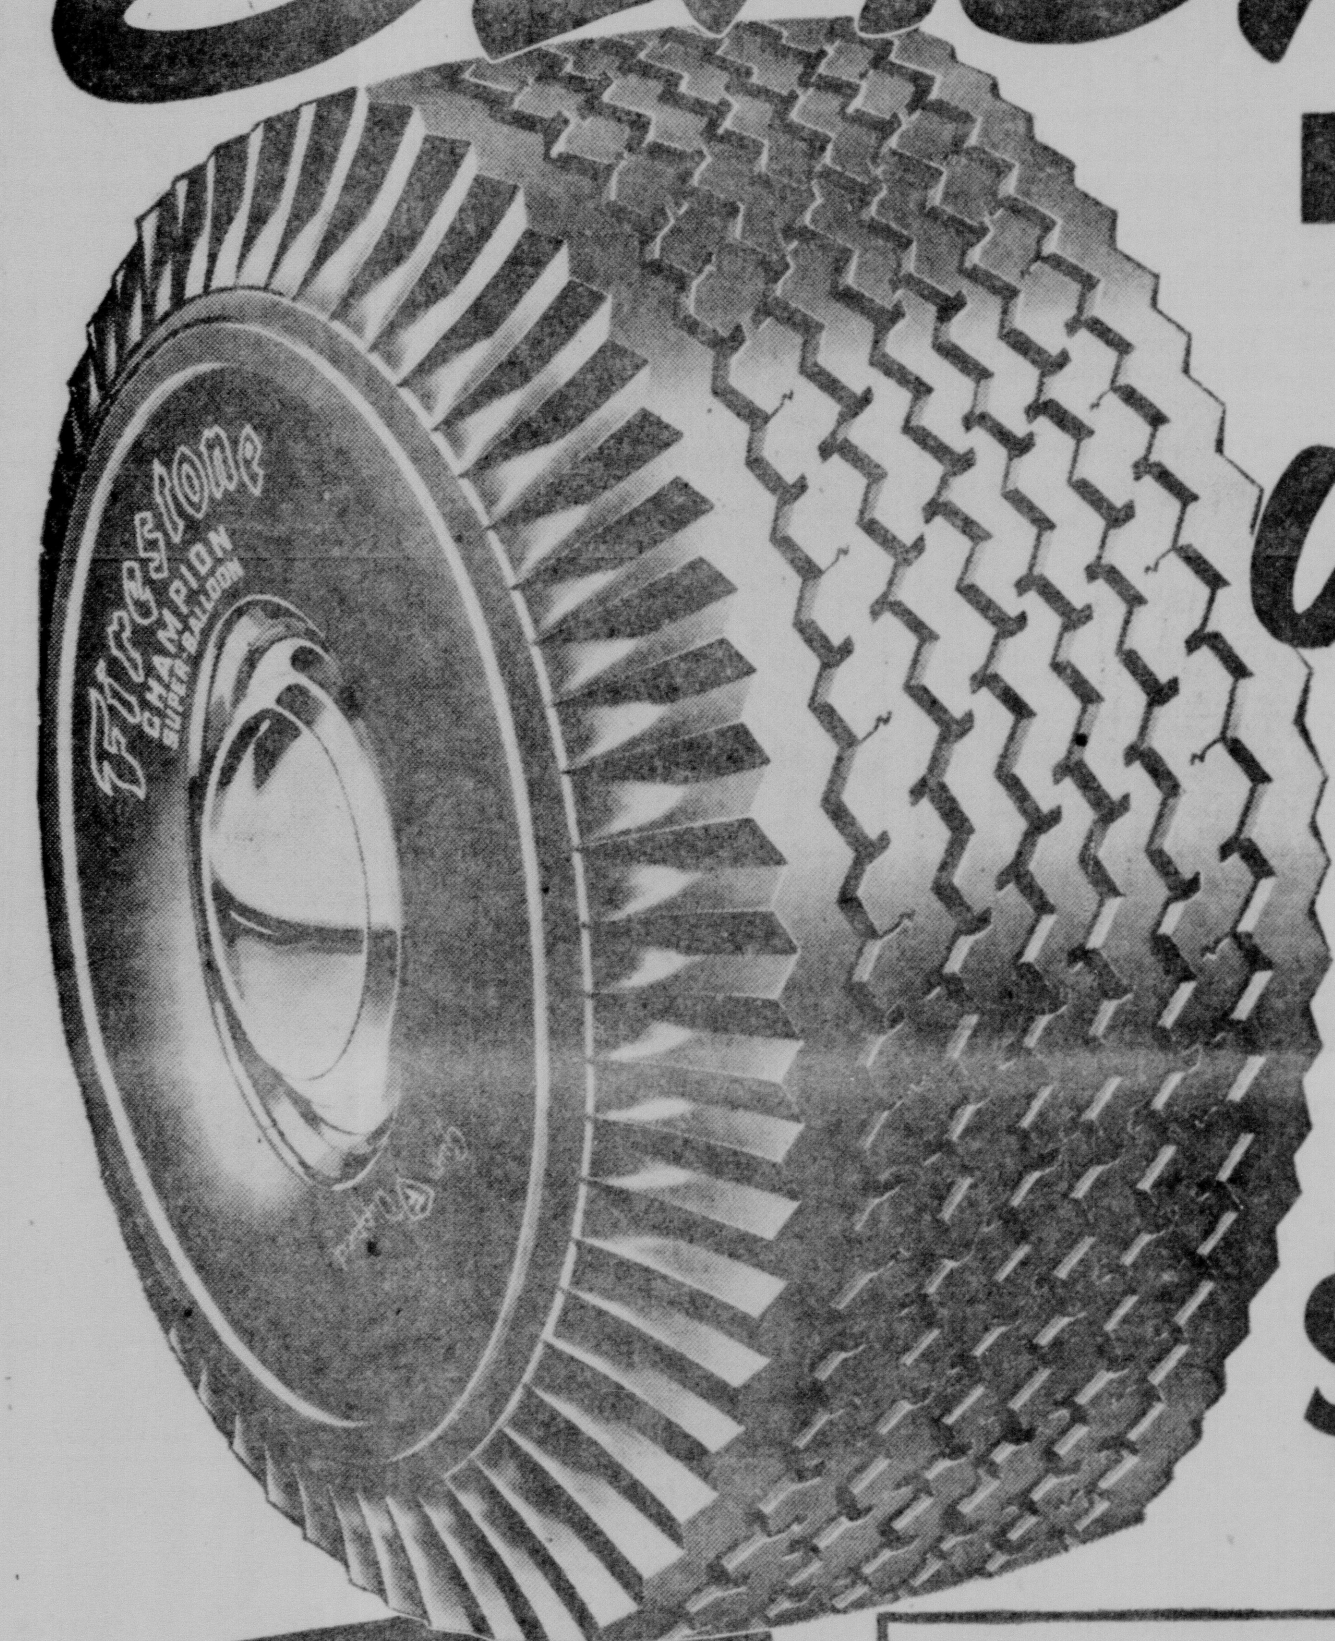

Flying Blind Not New to Lt. Corson

U. S. NAVAL AIR STATION, San Diego, Calif.—Flying blind is nothing new to Lt. Ralph W. Corson, USN, 1207 East 11th St., Sedalia, and husband of the former Miss Beulah Bronnfield of Pilot Grove, who recently completed a course here in instrument flight. He is a member of the Air Force,

Pacific Fleet, and will soon receive a flight card which certifies his ability to fly in all types of adverse weather conditions which hamper normal vision. The excellent battle record of Navy aircraft carriers has been largely possible because pilots could attack in all types of weather.
Hunter Bags Seal
TRURO, N. S. — Seal hunting may never become a regular sport in the Salmon River here but Herman Weatherbee got one. He spotted the seal which apparently came in with the tide and bagged it after exchanging his fishing rod for a rifle.

Wine Festival Scheduled

TEL AVIV — A wine festival, combining old biblical and new Israel style, will be celebrated this summer on the southern fringes of Mt. Carmel, the wine center of the Holy Land. There have been no wine festivals here for some two thousand years, historians say.

The festival, which will be highlighted by a number of concerts, will be co-ordinated with the Jewish Choir Festival in Jerusalem.

Soviets Produce Propaganda Film
MOSCOW (P) — A long run is predicted for the new Soviet film, "Unforgettable 1919" in which the villains include Winston Churchill, Woodrow Wilson, Lloyd George and Georges Clemenceau. They are referred to as "bosses of world reaction."

The film concerns principally the days of fighting around Petrograd in 1919. There are many scenes of action, spying by British agents and traitors.

The film is made more appealing by music specially composed by Dmitri Shostakovich.

Mamie Leaves Campaigning Up to General

DENVER (P)—Mamie Eisenhower would like to "unpack my furniture someplace and stay forever."

But, for the record, she's not saying if she'd like to be the nation's first lady or whether she has any ideas on how to play home-maker in the White House.

The lady with the bangs, who pooh-poohed the idea that she might be starting a new feud with her haircut, talked with four gals from the press yesterday.

It wasn't a "press conference," said Mamie. It was just a "little get-together over a bottle of coke."

Such things as the affairs of the nation and the chances of her Ike (Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower) becoming the Republican presidential candidate were strictly out.

Instead, she sat down in the executive Suite of the Brown Palace Hotel and chatted about her grandchildren, French dress designers, recipes and her engagement rings.

Mamie revealed that Ike proposed to her in a note he sent from his Army post in Texas. He gave her a replica of his West Point ring shortly before they were married (which later was transferred to her right hand in favor of more conventional diamonds).

For 37 years she's been "following him around the world," and the longest they've been separated is 3½ years during World War II. That was while the general was in Europe and she was living near Washington, D.C.

While Eisenhower is busy starting his campaign, Mamie is spending her time with her mother—who is here. Son John will be leaving in about 10 days for a Korean assignment.

Mrs. Eisenhower makes no speeches. She hopes to keep that record. She explained that if she accepted one such invitation, she felt she'd have to accept them all. That, she concluded, would be "quite physically impossible."

Mamie receives "about 50 or 60" letters a day and until recently she's tried to answer each by long hand. Her mail ranges from requests for souvenirs to be auctioned off at church bazaars to the I - collect - such - and - such - would - you - please - send - me - one - of - same.

Romania Stops Jew Migration Down to Israel

VIENNA, Austria, (P)—Diplomatic reports from Bucharest said today that Romania's Communist government has suspended completely the migration of thousands of Jews to Israel.

The reports said also that the Communist government's mass deportation of "politically unreliable" citizens from the cities has spread to Brasov, in the Transylvanian Alps, and that thousands are being driven from their homes there.

Through last March, the Romanian government permitted up to 8,000 Jews to leave Romania each month.

In April only a trickle of Jews boarded the S.S. Transylvania, which plies between Constanta and Haifa. In May and early June, the diplomatic reports said, no Jews secured exit permits.

The ban on emigration appeared designed to force the Jewish population into Romania's labor force. The Communists reportedly have set up a "Jewish Democratic Committee" to drive Jews into factories, mines and farms. The committee, the diplomats said, has been publishing alleged letters from emigrants to Israel, severely criticizing conditions there.

This campaign also is being accompanied by a wave of anti-Semitism current in Romania and believed a factor in the recent fall from grace of Ana Pauker, the country's Jewish-born foreign minister.

Ike's Backstage Remarks Show A 'Give 'Em Hell' Attitude

DENVER (P)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's backstage remarks have revealed a presidential candidate today with more "give 'em hell" determination than his public speeches have reflected.

This became increasingly clear after the general talked to Western GOP convention delegates and to a small group of newsmen in an almost-secret meeting yesterday.

Reports which leaked out of these sessions showed that Eisenhower believes:

1. That Sen. Taft of Ohio is among the "isolationists" in the United States who want to pull back into a shell in this country, arm to the teeth, and then sit tight against Communism.
2. That he (Eisenhower) is going to win the GOP presidential nomination.
3. That he doesn't believe John Foster Dulles, Republican foreign policy leader, can draft a foreign policy plank that would be acceptable both to himself (Eisenhower) and Taft.
4. That he doesn't favor giving generals a five-star rank in peacetime because it could lead to a rank-heavy Army that might start putting seven stars on generals.
5. That the federal government, states and local communities must pitch in with pump priming and work projects to help the people in times of depression.

This afternoon the general was slated to discuss his views with GOP delegates from Oregon and Arizona. Yesterday he talked with the delegates from Colorado, Utah

Rhee Opponents Named to Head Korea Assembly

PUSAN, Korea (P)—Three strong opponents of President Syngman Rhee were elected temporary chairmen of the National Assembly today with the support of pro-Rhee and middle-of-the-road members.

The move was interpreted as a gesture aimed at encouraging anti-Rhee assemblymen to support a compromise solution to the republic's political crisis.

The three men elected are retiring Chairman P. H. Shinicky, and two vice chairmen, Cho Bong Am and Kim Dong Sung. Each of the 152 assemblymen present voted for them.

A compromise plan, supported by Prime Minister Chang Taik as well as by pro-Rhee lawmakers, would provide for election of the President by the people rather than by the Assembly. It also would give South Korea a two-house congress.

Both measures have been demanded by Rhee, who faced almost certain defeat if the Assembly retained its powers to pick a President when Rhee's four-year term expires this month.

As a concession to the Assembly, the compromise also would empower the legislature to overthrow the Cabinet.

Chang's followers say they have nearly enough support to push the compromise through.

Ike Forces Will Not Compromise On Texas

DENVER (P)—Rep. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.), former Republican National Committee chairman, said today the Eisenhower forces "will never compromise" on the contested Texas delegates to the GOP National Convention.

Scott came here to talk with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and to report his belief the general is picking up delegate strength across the country.

Scott told reporters he is convinced that if the delegate contests are taken to the floor of the GOP convention in Chicago for a showdown fight, it will lead to a Democratic victory in November.

Commies Complain UN Truce Walkout Was Unjustified

MUNSAN, Korea (P)—Smarting under an Allied-imposed three-day recess, the Reds sent their liaison officers to Pannunjom today with a complaint that the United Nations walkout was unjustified.

Allied liaison officers countered by telling the Reds that U.N. planes still had found no markings on four Communist prisoner of war camps despite Communist assertions that the camps were properly marked.

The exchange took place at a liaison meeting called by the United Nations Command.

A letter from the Reds said: "These unilateral and unjustifiable actions on the part of your side (yesterday's walkout) are evidently designed for the delay of the armistice negotiations and the responsibility rests entirely on your side."

However, the Reds did not request that the recess be cut short as they did last week when the Allies walked out in a similar move. It was done to cut short the Red flow of propaganda and confine the meetings to negotiations on prisoner exchange—the last item barring a truce.

The Allied note said that in spite of assertions of Red delegates that all their prisoner camps were properly Allied reconnaissance had failed to find any markings around locations given for Camps 2, 6, 9 and 10.

"Either these prisoner camps do not exist at the locations specified by you on Jan. 23, or you have been misinformed," the Allied note said.

Dulles Believes Reds Will Make War, If Must, to Get Control

NEW YORK (P)—John Foster Dulles says he believes that "if the Soviet Union cannot without an open war get control of either Germany or Japan, then it is not likely there will be a general war."

If the Russians can get control of either, he adds, "the risk of general war is greatly increased."

The Republican foreign policy adviser, who was instrumental in drawing up the Japanese Peace Treaty, spoke at a dinner of the Japan Society last night.

Iron Ore Samples Found
SINGAPORE (P)—An indication of possible big iron deposits on Singapore island itself is seen by the discovery of "good quality" iron ore samples found on a number of colony rubber estates.

The city analyst said tests on rock samples from the estates showed a 82 per cent iron content, with a possible 57 per cent after smelting.

Pettis Cafes Warned to File Ceiling Prices

Warning letters advising of the penalties involved in failure to file prices under the new dollars-and-cents restaurant regulation are being mailed this week to restaurant and tavern operators in Pettis County.

Supplementing the effort to secure compliance under this tailored regulation are three business analysts who are working in the field advising operators of their obligations under Ceiling Price Regulation 134.

The OPS district office in Kansas City which serves western Missouri and Johnson and Wyandotte counties, Kansas, estimates that many of the operators in the area have failed to file their prices. CPR 134 requires the filing of base food prices based on the highest prices charged during the week of Feb. 3-9, 1952, together with the posting of prices in each establishment.

Under an exemption issued this week establishments which had gross sales in 1951 of not more than $24,000 or an average of $2,000 a month if open only a part of the year, no longer are required by OPS to file CPR 11 base period sales and costs. Also exempted from filing under regulation 11 are small drug stores and similar establishments serving food and beverages which do not segregate their food and beverage sales from other sales if their total food and beverage purchase
